The Declaration of Independence guarantees every American the right to the pursuit of happiness. Americans frantically pursue personal satisfaction, but for most of us, it is elusive. Perhaps, happiness is difficult to find if we are seeking a materialistic form. It is obvious that true personal fulfillment can not be bought. A basic evaluation of the real meaning of life reveals happiness, although intangible, is within the grasp of all.

The key to happiness is good health which enables one to participate in the adventure of living. The beauty and spectacle of nature is available for all to behold. A vital ingredient in the full enjoyment of life is a sincere and purposeful love. Joy of living can be found in human relationships, observation of man's foibles and in the participation of life's activities.

We have tried to depict on these pages some of the fundamental joys of living.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
CHAIRMAN

Friend, Coach and Educator

For more than a century, Barringer has been dedicated to the development of keen minds and strong bodies. It has sought to instill in each student a sense of sportsmanship, fair play, and a desire to win. To this end competent and efficient Barringer faculties have devoted their time and effort.

The essence of this goal is embodied in competitive sports and directed physical activities. Today the importance of physical fitness is more apparent than ever before as an essential of national interest.

We of Barringer are fortunate to have a department of Physical Education acknowledged to be one of the finest in the state. A reputation as splendid as this was not obtained by chance, it has been developed through the ability and devotion of a true educator, Mr. Victor Salerno.

Many trophies and honors, both city and state, have been won for Barringer through Mr. Salerno's coaching.

But, far more important than these victories is the spirit Mr. Salerno has sought to instill in each of his boys, whether on a team or in his class. Mr. Salerno, you have given to your students the meaning of leadership, sportsmanship, a desire to win, and the need to win fairly.

We, the Graduating Class of January 1960, are honored to dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Victor J. Salerno . . . friend, coach and educator.

Barringer Campus View

October 9, 1959

To the Principal:

Praise

You are no doubt aware that several of the graduates of your school were awarded earned doctor's degrees in 1957. Your school and your faculty are to be congratulated on this achievement by your former students.

Their names and other pertinent facts, secured from a questionnaire which they completed for the Survey of Earned Doctorates conducted by the National Academy of Sciences - National Research Council, are recorded on the enclosed forms.

Will you be good enough to fill in the remaining blanks as fully as you can, and return the forms in the self-addressed envelope?

This study of the backgrounds of the 8838 persons who received their doctorates in this country during 1957 is being carried on in cooperation with the Office of Scientific Personnel of the NAS-NRC. The OSP has for many years been engaged in a long-term research of doctorate-level scholars; a report of some of their findings on this group is to be published in a forthcoming issue of Science.

For a number of years I have been investigating the backgrounds and the personal traits of scholars. You may be interested in the data enclosed, collected in one of my recent studies. Please note that the confidential information is treated in an impersonal manner.

Your kind cooperation in furnishing the requested data on the enclosed forms will be greatly appreciated. Any other clues you can supply may also be of value in explaining why these students persevered to earn the highest academic degrees in their chosen fields.

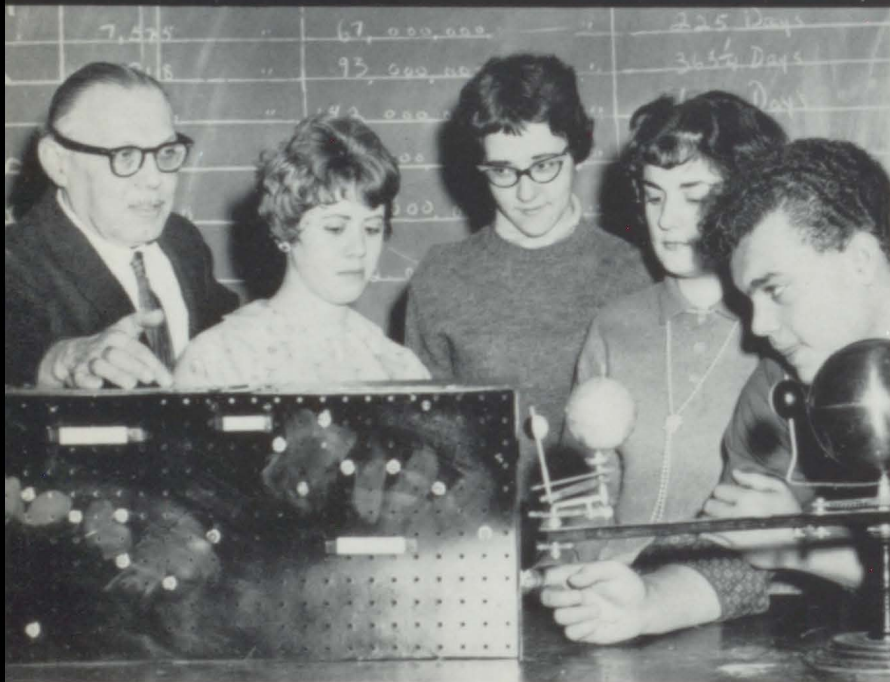

Sincerely yours,
Samuel Strauss

Cheer for every play

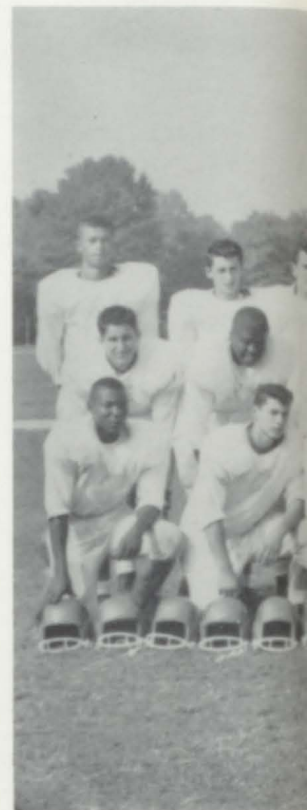

SPORTS

Wing back sweep play is perfected.

Followers of high school football take no back seat to avid collegiate and professional football fans when it comes to cheering their team to victory; such is the key to the story of Barringer's football success.

With the support of a loyal student body, alumni and parents, and a shift to the single wing, the Big Blue went on to win six games: Weequahic 32-6, South Side 12-7, Central 54-0, Morris Hill, Sectional State Champs, 33-7, West Side 21-6, and Orange 7-0, tied one, which was with Plainfield, Co-State Champs, 12-12, and lost two, which were championship bids: East Side 7-15 and East Orange 13-20.

The meet we won!

Guardians of the Goal

Robert Barlett, co-captain, ace defensive man for the booters. His sharp eye and his running dexterity made him a threat against his opposition.

Robert Schmidt, halfback, his speed and power made him an outstanding defensive asset to the team.

Block that ball!

Soccer Team Places Second in the City

Speed, passing, and team work are the important factors in the success of the 1959 Barringer Soccer Squad. Under the guidance of Coach Claude Di Chiara, the booters plotted a 7-4-3 season record, and a second place tie in the City Title Race.

Sal De Gerlando, fullback, with his quick and timely reflects made him a wily defensive player.
